GENERAL

1. In this Regulation,

“attestation establishing that no impediment exists” means the document issued by a police force in Québec confirming that the data banks accessible to the force do not contain any information needed to verify the existence of an impediment; (attestation d’absence d’empêchement)

“attestation of information that may establish an impediment” means the document issued by a police force in Québec setting out information contained in the data banks accessible to the force that is needed to verify the existence of an impediment; (déclaration de renseignements pouvant révéler un empêchement)

“facility” means an integral group of premises including all play, service and traffic areas, and an outdoor play space if it is not situated in a public park, reserved exclusively for educational childcare provided by a permit holder and, where applicable, for the operations of a home educational childcare coordinating office during operating hours; (installation)

“impediment” means grounds for permit refusal set out in paragraphs 2 and 3 of section 26 and in the second paragraph of section 27 of the Act. (empêchement)

2. An applicant for a childcare centre permit or day care centre permit must have an investigation of information needed to verify the existence of an impediment carried out in respect of its directors and its shareholders, in the case of a legal person or in respect of himself or herself in the case of a natural person, and provide the Minister with a copy of the consent to investigation and the attestation establishing that no impediment exists or, as the case may be, an attestation of information that may establish an impediment, for the Minister’s assessment.

Every director or shareholder must consent in writing to an investigation of the information and communication of the consent to investigation and of the attestation establishing that no impediment exists or, after examining the attestation and if he or she maintains his or her candidacy or interest, to the attestation of information that may establish an impediment being provided to the permit applicant and to the Minister for the Minister’s assessment.

3. A person applying for recognition as a home educational childcare provider must have an investigation of the information needed to verify the existence of an impediment carried out in respect of himself or herself and every person of full age residing in the private residence where the childcare is to be provided.

The applicant must give to the accredited home educational childcare coordinating office for the territory in which the residence where the person proposes to provide the childcare is situated, for each person, a copy of the consent to investigation and an attestation establishing that no impediment exists or, as the case may be, after examining the attestation and if the applicant maintains his or her application, an attestation of information that may establish an impediment for its assessment.

The coordinating office must ensure that the consent allows investigation of all the information provided for in the second paragraph of section 27 of the Act.

O.C. 582-2006, s. 3; O.C. 1314-2013, s. 2.

4. A permit applicant or permit holder must ensure that no person of full age working in the applicant’s or holder’s facility during the hours when childcare services are provided, including a trainee or volunteer who is present on a regular basis, has an impediment related to the abilities and conduct required to hold a position in a childcare centre or a day care centre, unless the impediment relates to an indictable or criminal offence other than an offence listed in Schedule 2 to the Criminal Records Act (R.S.C. 1985, c. C-47) for which a pardon has been granted.

The same applies, with the necessary modifications, to the home educational childcare coordinating office staff members assigned to manage the office, to recognize or to monitor or provide technical and pedagogical support to the home educational childcare providers the office has recognized.

Before being hired, those persons must consent in writing to an investigation of the information needed to verify the existence of such an impediment and provide to the permit applicant or permit holder or coordinating office, as the case may be, a copy of the consent to investigation to allow the applicant, holder or coordinating office to ensure that the consent allows investigation of all the information listed in the second paragraph of section 27 of the Act. Those persons must also, if applicable, consent to communication of the attestation establishing that no impediment exists to the permit applicant, permit holder or coordinating office, as the case may be, or submit the attestation of information that may establish an impediment to the applicant, holder or office for assessment, after examining the attestation and if they maintain their application.

This section also applies to a person who regularly transports children on behalf of a permit holder.

O.C. 582-2006, s. 4; O.C. 1314-2013, s. 3.

4.1. A permit holder must ensure that, when a minor works in the facility, the minor is at all times accompanied by a person of full age when in the presence of children receiving childcare.

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 3.

4.2. A permit holder who has recourse to an organization or enterprise providing replacement childcare staff members must ensure that the organization or enterprise that dispatched the replacement staff members has carried out the investigations provided for in section 4, in the manner provided for in that section, before allowing the replacement staff members to work in the facility.

In the case of a replacement staff member, the permit holder must ensure that the replacement staff member has in his or her possession a copy of the consent and attestation, not older than 3 years, referred to in the third paragraph of section 4.

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 3.

5. The first paragraph of section 4 applies, with the necessary modifications, to a person assisting or occasionally replacing a home educational childcare provider, and to a trainee or a volunteer who is present on a regular basis in the residence where the childcare is provided.

Before taking up the position, those persons must consent in writing to an investigation of the information needed to verify the existence of such an impediment and provide to the coordinating office a copy of the consent to investigation to allow the coordinating office to ensure that the consent allows investigation of all the information listed in the second paragraph of section 27 of the Act. Those persons must also consent to communication of the attestation establishing that no impediment exists to the person applying for recognition as a home educational childcare provider and to the coordinating office, or submit the attestation of information that may establish an impediment to that person or office for assessment, after examining the attestation and if they maintain their application.

6. A permit holder or home educational childcare provider must ensure that a new consent to investigation and a new attestation are provided if

- (1) the last attestation dates back 3 years or more;

(2) the person who provided the attestation or the educational childcare provider is made aware that the information it contains has changed; or

(3) the person to whom it must be provided or the Minister, on being made aware that the information it contains has changed, requires a new attestation.

In the case of a change of director or shareholder, a permit holder must, within 60 days of the change, provide a consent to investigation and one of the attestations referred to in section 2 in respect of the new director or the new shareholder.

Sections 2, 3, 4 and 5 apply, as the case may be and with the necessary modifications, to the obtaining of the attestation referred to in this section.

O.C. 582-2006, s. 6; S.Q. 2010, c. 39, s. 25; O.C. 1314-2013, s. 5; O.C. 249-2016, s. 2.

S.Q. 2017, c. 31, s. 24.

6.1. The person referred to in section 6.1 of the Act must have an investigation establishing that no impediment exists carried out in respect of himself or herself and every person of full age residing in the private residence where the childcare is provided.

He or she must, for each person, provide the police force with a copy of the consent to investigation of all of the information provided for in the second paragraph of section 27 of the Act that may establish an impediment.

6.2. For every person referred to in the first paragraph of section 6.1, the police force must issue an attestation establishing that no impediment exists or, where applicable, an attestation of information that may establish an impediment. In the latter case, the person may then decide not to offer childcare services or provide the attestation to the Minister for the Minister's assessment.

The police force must notify the Minister in writing when it issues an attestation of information that may establish an impediment.

S.Q. 2017, c. 31, s. 24.

6.3. On request, the Minister assesses the attestation of information that may establish an impediment provided by the person referred to in section 6.1 of the Act. If the Minister concludes that the content of the attestation is not related to the abilities and conduct required for home childcare or that it will not impede the carrying out of the person's responsibilities or constitute a moral or physical danger for the children to whom the person proposes to provide childcare, an attestation establishing that no impediment exists is issued to the person. Otherwise, the Minister notifies the person in writing that he or she does not have the capacity to provide childcare.

S.Q. 2017, c. 31, s. 24.

6.4. The person must keep the consent to investigation and the attestation establishing that no impediment exists and provide parents with a copy of the attestation issued.

S.Q. 2017, c. 31, s. 24.

6.5. The person must ensure that he or she obtains a new attestation if

- (1) the last attestation dates back 3 years or more;
- (2) the information it contains has changed; or
- (3) the Minister, on being made aware the information it contains has changed, requires a new attestation.

Sections 6.1 to 6.3 apply, with the necessary modifications, to the obtaining of the new attestation referred to in the first paragraph.

DIVISION II

MEDICATION, INSECT REPELLANT, TOXIC PRODUCTS AND CLEANING PRODUCTS

O.C. 582-2006, Div. II; O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

§ 1. — Keeping, administration and labelling of medication

O.C. 582-2006 sd. 1; O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

116. An educational childcare provider may not keep any medication that is not in its original container or packaging, as the case may be, clearly labelled and marked with the name of the person for whom it is intended.

However, a home educational childcare provider is only subject to the provisions of the first paragraph with regard to medication for the children receiving childcare.

O.C. 582-2006, s. 116; O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

117. Subject to the provisions of section 120, the educational childcare provider must ensure that only medication provided by a parent of the child for whom it is intended is administered to that child.

The label on the container must clearly state the child's name, the name of the medication, the expiry date, the dose and the duration of the treatment.

O.C. 582-2006, s. 117; O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

118. The educational childcare provider must ensure that medication intended for a child receiving childcare is only kept and administered if its administration is authorized in writing by the parent and by a health care professional authorized by law to prescribe the medication. The information recorded by the pharmacist on the label identifying the medication is proof of the authorization by the health care professional.

An educational childcare provider may not keep medication for children that has expired. If the medication was provided by a parent, it must be returned to the parent.

O.C. 582-2006, s. 118; O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

119. The written authorization from the parent must include the child's name, the name of the medication to be administered, the instructions for administration, the duration of the authorization and the parent's signature.

O.C. 582-2006, s. 119; O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

120. Despite section 118, the educational childcare provider may administer saline nasal drops, an oral hydration solution, diaper rash cream, lubricant jelly in single-dose packs for taking a child's temperature, moisturizing cream, lip balm, calamine lotion or sunscreen cream to a child without the authorization of an accredited health care professional.

With the exception of a saline nasal drops, moisturizing cream and lip balm, the educational childcare provider may supply the medication referred to in the first paragraph. However, if the medication is provided by the parent, the container must be clearly marked with the name of the child concerned.

Despite the provisions of the second paragraph of section 117, the information on the original container or packaging for the lubricant jelly, lip balm and moisturizing cream is sufficient.

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

121. Despite sections 116 and 118, an educational childcare provider may supply, keep and administer acetaminophen to any child without the authorization of an accredited health care professional, but only in accordance with the protocol in Schedule II duly signed by the parent.

However, if the acetaminophen is supplied by the parent, its container must be clearly marked with the name of the child concerned.

O.C. 582-2006, s. 121; O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62; O.C. 1464-2022, s. 27.

121.2. The educational childcare provider must keep a medication administration sheet for each child receiving childcare.

The medication administration sheet must contain the name of the child, the name of the parent, the name of the medication for which the parent authorizes administration, the date and hour of administration to the child, the dose administered, the name of the person who administered the medication, and that person's signature.

However, the educational childcare provider is not required to record information, on the sheet, concerning the administration of a medication provided for in section 120, except calamine lotion and oral hydration solution.

The educational childcare provider must ensure that a person who administers medication records that fact on the sheet.

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

121.3. The educational childcare provider must keep the medication administration sheet, the administration protocols and the authorizations, if required, in a file reserved for that purpose, kept on the premises and available for consultation by a person administering medication.

The original copy of the file and the documents it contains must be given to the parent when childcare services are no longer required for the child. A copy of the file and of the documents it contains must be kept for 3 years after the childcare ceases.

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

§ 2. — Storage of medication

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

121.4. An educational childcare provider must ensure that medication is stored in a storage space out of the reach of children and away from food, toxic products and cleaning products. The permit holder must keep the storage space locked.

However, oral hydration solutions need not be stored away from food or under lock and key.

Similarly, saline nasal drops, diaper rash cream, lubricant jelly, moisturizing cream, lip balm and sunscreen cream need not be stored under lock and key.

Epinephrine auto-injectors need not be stored under lock and key and must be accessible to staff members and the home educational childcare provider, a replacement or an assistant.

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

121.5. A home educational childcare provider must store the medication intended for children receiving care separately from other medication used in the residence where childcare is provided.

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

§ 3. — Keeping, administration and storage of insect repellents

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

121.6. The educational childcare provider must ensure that no insect repellent is kept or administered to a child receiving childcare except in accordance with the protocol in Schedule II, duly signed by the parent.

The educational childcare provider must ensure that the insect repellent is clearly labelled, kept in its original container, and stored in a storage space out of the reach of children and away from food and medication. The permit holder must keep the storage space locked.

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

121.7. The permit holder must designate, in writing, one or more persons to apply insect repellent in each facility.

The permit holder must ensure that only a designated person applies insect repellent.

A home educational childcare provider and any assistant or, in their absence, the replacement referred to in section 81 may apply insect repellent to a child receiving childcare.

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62; O.C. 1464-2022, s. 28.

121.8. The educational childcare provider must ensure that a person who applies insect repellent records that fact on the sheet provided for in section 121.2.

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

§ 4. — Labelling and storage of toxic products and cleaning products

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

121.9. The educational childcare provider must ensure that toxic products and cleaning products are clearly labelled and stored out of the reach of children in a locked storage space reserved for that purpose.

For the purposes of the first paragraph, a product stored in a locked storage space, in a room that is not accessible to the children receiving care and is locked at all times when the staff are not present, is considered to be out of the reach of children.

Similarly, a product stored under lock and key in the residence where home educational childcare is provided is considered to be out of the reach of children.

Despite the first paragraph, an alcohol-based hand sanitizer dispenser, provided it is out of the reach of children, need not be stored under lock and key.

O.C. 1314-2013, s. 62.

DIVISION III

REGISTRATION AND ATTENDANCE CARDS

The card must be signed by the parent and kept on the premises where the childcare is provided and given to the parent when childcare is no longer required.

- (3) the date as of which childcare is no longer required.

The attendance card must be updated daily and signed by the parent every 4 weeks if the child is receiving childcare from a permit holder or every 2 weeks if the child is receiving childcare from a home educational childcare provider. The card must be accessible on the premises where the childcare is provided and kept for 6 years after termination of childcare.

O.C. 479-2019, s. 7.

123.0.2. A permit holder must ensure that only a person applying the educational program or seeing to its application can enter information and file documents in the child's education record.

Only a recognized home educational childcare provider or the provider's assistant may access a child's education record, enter information and file documents in it.

O.C. 479-2019, s. 7.

123.0.3. An educational childcare provider must ensure that a periodic portrait of the child's development is prepared, dated and signed in November and May of each year, by a person applying the educational program in respect of the child, in the case of a permit holder, or by a recognized home educational childcare provider in the case of home childcare.

The child's educational portrait must contain a brief description of the child's development with regard to all the areas referred to in section 6.10, to make it possible to follow the child's evolution.

However, an educational childcare provider is dispensed from preparing the periodic portrait of the child's development if he or she has been providing childcare for less than 60 days.

O.C. 479-2019, s. 7.

123.0.4. An educational childcare provider must send the parent a copy of the periodic portrait of the child's development not later than 15 December and 15 June of each year.

The educational childcare provider must keep proof of that communication during the year following the end of the provision of childcare services to the child.

O.C. 479-2019, s. 7.

123.0.4.1. Despite sections 123.0.3 and 123.0.4, a periodic portrait of the child's development need not be prepared in November 2020 nor sent to the parent at the latest by the following 15 December.

O.C. 1228-2020, s. 1.

O.C. 479-2019, s. 7.

When childcare is no longer required, an educational childcare provider must give the parent the original copy of the child's education record, in accordance with the Act, and keep a copy for one year. At the end of that period, the educational childcare provider must destroy the copy.

O.C. 479-2019, s. 7.

123.0.7. Subject to the provisions of the third paragraph of section 57.1 of the Act and section 123.0.2, or unless it is for internal use related to childcare services provided to the child, access to the education record and any communication or reproduction of all or part of the record or of the documents and information it contains are prohibited, unless previously authorized in writing by the parent.

PROTOCOLS

(1) PROTOCOL FOR ADMINISTERING ACETAMINOPHEN TO TREAT FEVER

Acetaminophen is the generic name of the medication that is commercially available under the following brand names: Atasol, Tempra, Tylenol and other house brand names. Acetaminophen has analgesic (pain-reducing) and antipyretic (fever-reducing) properties, but does not have anti-inflammatory properties. Although it is an over-the-counter medication, its use should not be taken lightly.

Under the Educational Childcare Regulation (chapter S-4.1.1, r. 2), acetaminophen may be administered without medical authorization to a child receiving childcare, provided it is administered in accordance with this Protocol and that a parent has given written consent. The parent must declare any known allergy to acetaminophen. If a child is allergic to it, acetaminophen must not be administered by the childcare service. The child's weight must be stipulated in kilograms on the authorization form, and must be verified by the parents (a parent's initials are required) at least every 3 months.

A parent is not required to consent to the application of this Protocol. However, if a parent does not sign the authorization form, the medication may not be administered to the child unless the parent and a health professional authorized by law to prescribe it give written authorization.

BASIC RULES

Under this Protocol, acetaminophen may be administered solely to reduce fever. It may not be administered:

- to children under 3 months of age (the presence of fever at that age requires a medical consultation);
- to relieve pain (the presence of pain requires a medical consultation);
- for more than 48 consecutive hours (2 days);
- to children who have received medication containing acetaminophen in the preceding 4 hours.

In those 4 cases, the Protocol does not apply and written medical and parental authorizations are required to administer the medication.

Acetaminophen must never be administered before taking the child's temperature using a thermometer.

Educational childcare providers may have their own acetaminophen container, in which case the brand name, the dosage form (e.g. liquid suspension) and the concentration (80 mg/ml, 80 mg/5 ml or 160 mg/5 ml) must be indicated on the authorization form.

Educational childcare providers who purchase acetaminophen at the pharmacy must be careful to buy products containing only acetaminophen. Products that combine acetaminophen with other medications (decongestants, cough-relieving agents, expectorants) are strictly prohibited. Educational childcare providers should not hesitate to ask the pharmacist for advice, so as to purchase a product with the correct concentration of acetaminophen and at the best price. House brand names of acetaminophen sold in pharmacies are all as effective as brandmarks and are often less expensive.

To minimize the risk of mistakes, educational childcare providers should keep only the liquid form of acetaminophen, at one concentration (80 mg/ml, 80 mg/5 ml or 160 mg/5 ml). If they provide care only for children under 18 months of age, it is recommended that they use a concentration of 80 mg/ml. If they provide care only for children over 18 months of age, it is recommended that they use a concentration of 80 mg/5 ml or of 160 mg/5 ml. Educational childcare providers who provide care for children of all ages should select and keep to hand only one of the three available concentrations (80 mg/ml, 80 mg/5 ml or 160 mg/5 ml).

Liquid acetaminophen should be used. With tablets, it is not possible to give an accurate dose, especially to children under 5 years of age. Tablets should therefore be avoided.

Educational childcare providers must ensure that all the acetaminophen in their possession has a valid expiry date. Acetaminophen that is outdated must be returned to the pharmacy, where it will be destroyed.

All forms of acetaminophen must be kept under lock and key, out of the reach of children.

It is strictly forbidden to use acetaminophen formulated for adults (500 mg and 325 mg tablets).

Any administration of acetaminophen must be recorded on the medication administration sheet. The parent must be informed of the number of daily administrations and times of administration.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW

What is fever?

Fever is defined as a body temperature that is higher than normal. Normal temperature may vary somewhat depending on the child, the time of day, the outdoor temperature and the level of activity. The cause of the fever is more important than the temperature itself.

It is generally considered that there is fever if the temperature is above the normal temperature range when measured with a thermometer. Normal temperature varies depending on where the measurement is taken.

Levels above which fever is present, depending on the measurement method

Measurement method	Level in degree Celsius (°C) above which a child is considered to have a fever
Oral (mouth)	38 °C and over
Rectal (rectum)	38.5 °C and over
Tympanic (ear)	38.5 °C and over
Axillary (underarm)	37.5 °C and over

How to take a child's temperature

The only sure way to measure fever is to take the child's temperature. A child's temperature must be checked whenever the child's general condition (frantic crying, loss of energy, change in general condition, loss of appetite, irritability, etc.) or physical symptoms (flushed cheeks, excessively warm skin, sweating) could be signs of fever. Rectal measurement is the most reliable method, and underarm measurement is the least reliable.

The following measures are recommended:

— take the rectal temperature of children under 2 years of age. At that age, to know if they have a fever, the axillary temperature may also be taken (underarm). If it is equal to or greater than 37.5 °C, a second reading should be taken rectally to confirm that the child does in fact have a fever;

— take the axillary (underarm) or tympanic (ear) temperature of children between 2 and 5 years of age;

— take the oral (mouth) temperature of children over 5 years of age only. The tympanic (ear) temperature may also be taken;

— use the appropriate thermometer. Glass and mercury thermometers should not be used because of the risk of accidental exposure to mercury if they break. Fever strips (strips placed on the forehead or cheeks) are not recommended because they do not give accurate readings. Digital thermometers are recommended;

— always use disposable plastic tips because they are more hygienic. In addition, always disinfect the thermometer properly between uses, in accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations;

— apply a water-based lubricant jelly or petroleum jelly from a single-dose sachet to the disposable plastic tip before taking a child's temperature rectally;

— if the child has just been physically active or has drunk a cold or hot liquid, wait for 20 minutes before taking his or her temperature;

— always comply with the time requirements for the thermometer being used, since it will vary from one thermometer to the next.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO

Children under 3 months of age

If a child under 3 months of age has a fever, that is, if the rectal temperature is 38.5 °C or above:

— dress the child comfortably, in lightweight clothing;

— have the child drink at more frequent intervals;

— keep an eye on the child and take the child's temperature again after 60 minutes, or sooner if the child's condition seems to be worsening;

— notify the parent immediately, ask the parent to come and pick up the child and, in the meantime, apply the measures listed above;

— if the parent cannot come to pick up the child, call the persons designated by the parent as emergency contacts, and if they cannot be reached, take the child to a medical service, to the local community service centre or to a hospital emergency department; do not administer acetaminophen without a written medical authorization for the child.

Children 3 months of age or older

If a child 3 months of age or older has a fever, that is, if the rectal temperature is 38.5 °C or above or if the axillary temperature is 37.5 °C or above if a child is over 2 years of age:

— dress the child comfortably, in lightweight clothing;

- have the child drink at more frequent intervals;
- keep an eye on the child and take the child's temperature again after 60 minutes, or sooner if the child's condition seems to be worsening;
- inform the parent of the child's condition;
- if the educational childcare provider considers it necessary, acetaminophen may be administered to relieve the child, according to the dosage guidelines in the table included in this Protocol, or the dosage instructions on the medication container, in accordance with the rules in this Protocol;
- one hour after administering acetaminophen, take the child's temperature again; if the temperature has not fallen or if the child's general condition has not improved, ask the parent to come and pick up the child. If the parent cannot be reached, call the persons designated by the parent as emergency contacts, and if they cannot be reached, take the child to a medical service, to the local community service centre or to a hospital emergency department.

Calculating and administering a dose of acetaminophen

It is not always necessary to administer medication to reduce fever if the child has no other symptoms.

When you administer acetaminophen:

- Check the child's weight in the file. For the treatment to be effective, weight and not age should be used to determine the dose. If in doubt, contact the parent to check the child's weight.
- Always use simple words, appropriate to the child's age, to explain the relationship between his or her condition, the medication being taken and the expected results.
- Wash your hands before handling the medication.
- Always check:
 - the name of the product on the container, to make sure it really is acetaminophen;
 - the acetaminophen concentration (80 mg/ml, 80 mg/5 ml or 160 mg/5 ml) shown on the medication container, before deciding on the dose to be administered;
 - the product's expiry date;
- Use the table in this Protocol or follow the manufacturer's instructions to decide the dose that will be administered.
- Never exceed the dose shown in the table in this Protocol or that shown on the medication container.
- When administering acetaminophen in liquid form, always measure the dose accurately, using an oral syringe or medicine dropper calibrated in milliliter; never use a kitchen spoon. An oral syringe graduated in milliliter is particularly recommended because it produces a more accurate measurement.
- If the acetaminophen is a liquid suspension, shake the container before removing the dose.
- Once the dose has been measured using the calibrated oral syringe or medicine dropper, pour the medication into a medicine spoon or goblet calibrated in milliliter, and administer it to the child; never put a medicine dropper or syringe directly into a child's mouth, unless it is disposable. If the spoon or goblet is to be used again, it must be washed in very hot water after use.
- Wash your hands after administering the medication.

Mistakes when administering doses

If, after administering the medication, you find that the dose was too high, it is important to react immediately by contacting the Centre antipoison du Québec (1 800 463-5060) and following the instructions given. The child's parent must be informed.

WARNING

Ibuprofen (Advil, Motrin and other brands)

A clear distinction must be made between acetaminophen and ibuprofen. Ibuprofen must never be given to a child under 6 months of age.

Although both medications have fever-reducing properties, they must not be confused because they belong to different classes of medications and work differently. Ibuprofen must not, under any circumstances, be substituted for acetaminophen for the purposes of this Protocol. Care must be taken never to confuse ibuprofen and acetaminophen or substitute one for the other.

This Protocol may be applied as indicated, even if the child was given ibuprofen at home before being brought to the childcare service, regardless of the time that has elapsed. There is no reason why acetaminophen should not be given to a child to whom ibuprofen has been administered, since the 2 medications do not work in the same way.

OTHER MEDICATIONS:

Because of the availability of an increasing number of combination medications containing acetaminophen and another pharmaceutical product, greater care is needed when applying this Protocol. For example, a number of cough syrups contain acetaminophen.

Good communication between the parents and the person authorized to administer the medication is important. The person authorized to administer the medication must know what medication the child was given in the 4 hours before arriving at the childcare service and must ask the parent if it contained acetaminophen. At the same time, the parent must be informed of the doses of acetaminophen administered at the childcare centre, and the times of administration. There must be at least 4 hours between 2 doses of acetaminophen.

AUTHORIZATION FORM FOR THE ADMINISTRATION OF ACETAMINOPHEN

A parent is not required to consent to the application of this Protocol. However, if a parent does not sign the authorization form, acetaminophen may not be administered to the child unless the parent and a health professional authorized by law to prescribe it give written authorization. A parent may limit the period of validity of the authorization by indicating the duration of the authorization in the space provided.

I hereby authorize

(name of childcare centre, day care centre, person recognized as a home educational childcare provider, and assistant, as the case may be, or person designated under section 81 of the Educational Childcare Regulation, where applicable) to administer to my child, in accordance with this Protocol, acetaminophen sold under the following brand name:

(2) PROTOCOL FOR APPLYING INSECT REPELLENT

Under the Educational Childcare Regulation, insect repellent may be applied without medical authorization to a child receiving childcare, provided it is applied in accordance with this Protocol and that a parent has given written consent.

A parent is not required to consent to the application of this Protocol. However, if a parent does not sign the authorization form, the insect repellent may not be applied to a child unless the parent and a member of the Collège des médecins du Québec or a specialized nurse practitioner give written authorization.

BASIC RULES

The insect repellent used must contain DEET with a concentration of no more than 10% (N,N-diethyl-m-toluamide); read the product label carefully because the concentration of DEET varies significantly from product to product. Other insect repellents (e.g. citronella, lavender) are not recommended.

Educational childcare providers may have their own insect repellent container; the brand name, the form (lotion, cream, gel, liquid, non-aerosol or aerosol spray) and the concentration of the active ingredient DEET must be indicated on the authorization form. When purchasing an insect repellent, care is needed to avoid confusing the product required with insecticides designed to kill insects, which must not, under any circumstances, be applied to the body. Only personal insect repellents bearing a Pest Control Product registration number and labelled for human use by Health Canada should be used. Lastly, it is forbidden to use “2 in 1” products that act as both an insect repellent and a sunscreen. The reason for this is that sunscreen must be applied generously to all exposed skin and under clothing, to protect the child from the harmful effects of the sun, while an insect repellent should be applied in small amounts and never under clothing. It is for this reason that “2 in 1” products are not recommended.

To avoid confusion, it is recommended that educational childcare providers should keep only one type of insect repellent on hand. The product must be stored under lock and key, out of reach of the children. During outings, it is important to ensure that insect repellent is never within reach of the children.

Repeated or excessive applications of insect repellent are unnecessary for effectiveness; it is recommended that the repellent be applied sparingly to the skin or clothing. The product should not be used for extended periods of time.

Under no circumstances should insect repellent be applied:

- to the eyes or mucous membranes;
- to open wounds or broken skin;
- to irritated or sunburned skin;

- under clothing;
- to the hands;
- to the face; or
- in excessive amounts.

If a person gets insect repellent in his or her eyes, rinse immediately with plenty of water.

Insect repellents may not be used on children under 6 months of age without written authorization from a parent and a physician or specialized nurse practitioner. Preventive measures must therefore be used to protect children of this age from mosquitoes (see the precautionary measures for children under 6 months of age).

It is recommended that insect repellent be applied only once a day to children between 6 months and 2 years of age, and a maximum of 3 times a day to children over 2 years of age.

Before the period of the year when mosquitoes appear (spring), it is recommended that the DEET-based products used by the childcare service should first be tested on the children to avoid undesirable reactions when they are brought into more general use. To do this, a small amount of insect repellent should be applied to a small area of the child's skin (the size of a coin), preferably on the inside of the forearm, and left there for 24 hours. It is suggested that testing be done in the morning to see how well the children tolerate the product throughout the day, and then observe the results the following day. It is important to let parents know that the test will be done on that day. If a reaction occurs (e.g. rash, swelling), wash the treated skin immediately, inform the parent and suggest that the child be taken to see a physician or specialized nurse practitioner. Make sure the parent has a list of the product's ingredients for the physician or specialized nurse practitioner. The results of the test should be written in the child's file. Insect repellent should not be used on a child who reacts to the test, except with a written recommendation from a physician or specialized nurse practitioner.

An insect repellent and sunscreen can both be used if they are not combined into one product. When a sunscreen and an insect repellent are used, it is recommended that the sunscreen should have a sun protection factor (SPF) of 30, and that the insect repellent be applied at least 20 minutes after the sunscreen. Sunscreens lose approximately 30% of their effectiveness when DEET is applied.

Insect repellent must be applied in well-ventilated areas away from food.

Any application of insect repellent must be recorded in the register of medications prescribed by the Regulation and the parent must be informed of the number of daily applications.

PRECAUTIONARY MEASURES

Insect repellent should be used only during periods when mosquitoes are abundant or if the area around the childcare service serves as a breeding ground for mosquitoes, and only after the precautionary measures below have been taken.

To avoid insect bites when outside, the children must

- wear a long-sleeved sweater and long pants that ideally fit tightly at the wrists and ankles;
- wear loose-fitting, light-coloured clothes made of a tightly-woven fabric;
- wear shoes and socks;
- avoid using perfumed products; and
- avoid going outside at times of the day when mosquitoes are most abundant, such as early morning or late afternoon.

To prevent mosquitoes from breeding in the area around the childcare service:

- eliminate any source of standing water, which is conducive to mosquito breeding;
- turn over any objects that are not stored indoors, such as boats, wading pools, gardening containers and children's toys;
- cover outdoor garbage cans and any other container that may collect water;
- replace pool or wading pool water or make sure it is treated daily;
- use insect screens in the areas where younger children play; and
- repair damaged insect screens as quickly as possible.

Prevent children under 6 months of age from coming into contact with mosquitoes by using mosquito netting on strollers and by using screened-in verandas.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW

DEET-based products remain the preferred and most effective insect repellents against a wide variety of insects; insect repellents with a DEET concentration of less than 10% provide 2 to 3 hours of protection.

Although the safety of these products has been proven, they may pose certain risks, especially to children, if they are misused. DEET is partially absorbed through the skin and may make its way into the bloodstream. It may also accumulate in the body fat, brain and heart. A few cases of poisoning have been cited in the literature. However, there is little risk to human health if insect repellents are used with discretion and only occasionally.

Applying insect repellent to clothing (except synthetics or plastic material) may be a way of decreasing the risk of poisoning. However it is important to ensure that the children do not put clothing treated with DEET in their mouths, or touch it and accidentally get repellent in their eyes. DEET-based products can cause severe eye irritation.

In choosing a product, the following benefits and inconveniences should be considered:

- Insect repellents in the form of a lotion, gel or cream are generally easy to apply, but heavy application should be avoided.
- Insect repellents in non-aerosol or aerosol spray form require additional caution. They should not be applied in closed or poorly-ventilated areas to avoid breathing in the harmful fumes, and care must be taken to avoid getting repellent on children's faces or hands. In addition, it is preferable for the person applying the insect repellent to first spray it onto his or her own hands before applying the product to the child.

WHAT YOU SHOULD DO

Insect repellent must always be applied by a person authorized to do so. Under no circumstances should children be allowed to apply insect repellent themselves, regardless of their age.

When you go outdoors with the children, you must:

- apply the precautionary measures; and
- follow the steps below to apply the insect repellent:
 - use simple words to explain to the child the relationship between the situation, the insect repellent being applied and the expected results;

- ask the children in a way that they understand not to touch with their hands the parts of their body or clothing on which insect repellent has been applied, not to put their fingers in their mouth or eyes, and not to chew clothing on which repellent has been applied;
- wash your hands before handling the product;
- read the product label carefully before applying, and make sure that the DEET concentration is less than 10% and that the product does not contain sunscreen;
- preferably, wear gloves to apply the product;
- put a small amount of the product in your hand, and apply it sparingly to exposed areas of skin or to clothing;
- make sure the children do not touch the areas to which the insect repellent has been applied. If they do so, they should wash their hands with soapy water;
- wash your hands after applying the insect repellent to all the children in the group, even if you wore gloves to apply it.

Wash the treated skin with soap and water when the children come inside or when protection is no longer needed. This is particularly important if insect repellent is applied several times in the same day or on several consecutive days. This recommendation should also be passed on to the parents.

AUTHORIZATION FORM FOR THE APPLICATION OF INSECT REPELLENT

A parent is not required to consent to the application of this Protocol. However, if a parent does not sign the authorization form, insect repellent may not be applied to a child unless the parent and a member of the Collège des médecins du Québec or a specialized nurse practitioner give written authorization. A parent may limit the period of validity of the authorization by indicating the duration of the authorization in the space provided.
